Barbara advises and represents domestic and international companies in complex disputes before state courts and in alternative dispute resolution processes.

She advises our clients in disputes with a regulatory background, e.g., telecommunication and media, as well as in cross-border banking and financial disputes.

Further, she is specialized in public and regulatory law (with a focus on Constitutional and European Law) and represents our clients in related administrative and court proceedings.

Barbara also advises our clients in conducting internal investigations as well as compliance projects and processes.
