HENGELER MUELLER

Henrik Gildehaus

Senior Associate

Frankfurt am Main

T +49 69 17095 728

henrik.gildehaus
@hengeler.com

Henrik has a broad practice focussing on capital markets, banking and regulatory issues, including bank supervision and securities regulation.

He particularly advises companies and banks in a wide variety of capital markets transactions. This covers IPOs, capital increases and private placements. In this regard he also covers relevant aspects of stock corporation law.

In addition, he focusses on capital market based financing through the issue of bonds and structured investment products such as the issuance of hybrid bonds.

Career

Admitted to bar 2018

University of Bayreuth

University of Bristol (LL.M.)

Fordham University, New York

University of Hamburg

Publications

Co-author: Cologne Commentary on Takeover Law, 3rd ed. 2022

CoCo-Bonds als Beitrag zur Vermeidung systemischer Risiken im Bankensektor, Abhandlungen zum deutschen und europäischen Handels- und Wirtschaftsrecht, 2020

CoCo bonds as a means of reducing systematic risk and their role within new regulatory regimes, in: EU law after the financial crisis (Schmidt/Esplueges/García), 2016, 47-63

The Rating Agency Oligopoly and its Consequences for European Competition Law, European Law Review 2012, 269-293